Museum to Remember Fallen Comrades

Sunday 8th November 2009

Service to commence at 10.45am

The Royal Air Force Museum Cosford will be holding a Remembrance Service paying respect to those Service men and women who have made the ultimate sacrifice during their tours of duty.

For those wishing to pay their respects the Museum will be holding a Service of Remembrance in Hangar 1 on Sunday 8th November. The service will be lead by Rev (Wg Cdr) L E Spicer, C of E Chaplain RAF Cosford, in front of the Hurricane with visitors, ATC and RAF personnel present.

All visitors to the Museum are welcome to join the service for this Act of Remembrance and are politely requested, if they wish to attend, to assemble in Hangar 1 no later than 10:45 am when the Service will commence. A bugler will mark the beginning of 2 minutes silence with the sounding of The Last Post.

Organiser Philip Clayton, says:

"We will be paying homage to those servicemen and women from generations past who died defending others. We are also, paying our thanks to the thousands of men and women who put their lives at risk in the line of duty".

Alongside the service will be the 'Lest We Forget' exhibition which is a poignant and unflinching temporary exhibition that highlights the sacrifices made during human conflict and will be on display from 27th October – 15th November in the Museum's Hangar 1.

The Museum is open daily from 10am – 6pm. Entry to the Museum and participation are FREE. For further information, please call the Royal Air Force Museum, Cosford on 01902 376 200 or visit the museum website, www.rafmuseum.org.
